TWO TRAIN ROBBERS CAUGHT. Third Escaped After a Running Fight

A dispatch from Chicago last night says Vice President J. T. Harahan of the Illinois Central railroad announced tonight that "three of the robbers who held up field Creek, Ky., about ten miles south of Cairo, at 1:30 a.m. on the 11th instant, have been arrested and imprisoned by special agents in the employ of the company. We also expect to get the other two robbers in a short time. The first one arrested," he added, "was Michael Connelly, alias Doyle, who claims to be a resident of Portland, Ore. He was caught at Charleston, Mo., a small town on the Iron Monnain railway about fifteen miles from Cairo, on the afternoon of the 11th instant, and is now in jail at Cairo. The second man, Mike Conlan, was arrested at or near Wickliffe, Ky., yesterday, and is now in jail there.

"George P. Murray, chief special agent of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, went to the house of Jack Nelson, who is thought to be implicated in the robbery, at St. Louis last night, and in endeavoring to also expect to get the other two robbers

Announcement was made last night that George S. Davis has been appointed manager of the New York Base Ball Club, displacing W. "Buck" Ewing. The change, it is stated, was necessitated by the inability of Ewing to suppress the feeling of factiona ism that has existed among the players during the present season.

"According to those who are 'in the know,' the Doyle-Emslie rumpus at Cincinnati was a tempest in a teapot, and the affair will never bob up again," says a Chicago man. "Grossly exaggerated from the start, the alleged fight is said to have been distorted and harped upon until the goody-goodies all over the country were fairly yelling for the expulsion of Doyle, while nobody, apparently, even thought to ask the principals in the alleged battle what they thought about it."

Ren Mu'ford says: "The inhabitants of the Land of Bleach at Cincinnati were cruelly caustic to the heavy-hitting Quaker, who led the kicking division during the oft-repeated broadsides from vocal batteries aimed at the judge of play. The crowd finally tired of Captain Lajoie and his ravings. One shot sent him to cover It came from the stands in ringing tones: "Oh, get back, or we'll send Fick after you."

It came from the stands in ringing tones: "Oh, get back, or we'll send Fick after you."

The Cincinnatis have won no fewer than ten games in the final inning this season. In most of their victories of this sort they have apparently had no chance to win the game out. Their record in this respect is really most remarkable. The team has made so many great finishes that the fans are really disappointed when they fail to pu'l a game out in the last inning. There was a time in the history of the Cincinnati club when the crowd would leave if the Reds happened to be a few runs behind in the eighth or ninth inning. That time, however, is past. Everybody stays for the finish now.

For the first time in the history of the Philadelphia club the Quakers were shut out without a single hit to their credit by Noodles Hahn Wednesday at Cincinnati. Halm pitched one of the most remarkable games on record. In only one Inning did more than three men face him, and that was in the opening round, when De chant secured a pass, Only three men reached first hase and eight men struck out. Not once during the nine innings was the ball hit hard. There were no line hits or sharp grounders. When he did not strike them out Hahn caused them to send weak little grounders to the Infield or Ittle pop flies to the outfield, In base ba'l parlance Hahn had the visitors standing on their heads.

Talk of winning the pennant is easy, but the odds are all against Chicago. A well-known bookmaker down town, who is almost as close a student of form in base ball as he is in horse racing, has figured out the betting on the league pennant race as follows:

New York-Write your own ticket.—Chicago Tribune.

Over 1,000,000 people have paid to witness league games up to date. The figures given out make the number 1,070,000. This will amount in money to $400,000. I figure that by the time the league has played one-half the season they wil have taken in money enough to pay the running expenses for the year—that is, if the money would be divided up into eight equal parts, giving each club about $58,000. As it is, Pittsburg and Philadelphia have been the big winners, while Boston and Chicago are on Easy street. St. Louis and Brooklyn are sure of a handsome profit. Cincinnati will make something and New York will be a good big loser again. As a whole the big league should clear over $200,000 this season, and yet you will hear people tell how the attendance is failing off.—Jake Morse in Sporting Life.

lieve that Erne will have no trouble in outpointing his man, but few opine that he can give the Brooklyn whirlwind his quietus. Still others look for McGovern to finish the great lightweight.

McGovern has knocked out nearly all of his opponents in jig time, although he has had a shade the better of the weight in nearly all of his matches. Erne is considered one of the cleverest boxers alive, and it is a question of a fighter meeting a boxer, although Erne, too, is a hard puncher.

McGovern is today the recognized featherweight champion and Erne the lightweight champion. Most of the sports think Erne will have trouble making stipulated weight, which is 128 pounds at the ringside, but Erne doubtless believes he can make that weight without weakenhe can make that weight without weakening himself. He is foxy, and it is hardly probable he would have made such a match unless he knew he would not have the worse end. Indeed, McGovern has looked so big of late, and has so often made matches, by the terms of which he has not been compelled to disclose his weight, that Terry may prove to have as much trouble in making 128 pounds as Erne. This weight is well up within the lightweight class limit, seeing that 122 pounds is the top limit of featherweights.

Attention is called to the fact that we have not had on this side an international meeting since the sixth American chess congress in 1889, that our players have been regularly crossing the water and returning with a generous share of the prize money, and that it is time to do some reciprocation. May or June, 1901, is suggested as suitable date.

BLUE RIDGE SUMMIT.

Crowds at the Resorts Include Many Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. Every train brings additional guests to the Blue Ridge mountains, and as a result of the influx of the past few days the crowds at the different resorts are much larger than the early July crowds heretofore. Not for a number of years have there been as many people on the mountain this early in the season. The social doings Mr. G. S. Wainright and Dr. Charles Eupham of Washington arrived this week at the Blue Mountain House.

These Washington guests are at the Buena Vista Springs Hotel: Mr. E. Berliner, D. A. Chambers, Miss Hannah Berliner, Miss Louise Berliner, Master Henry Berliner, Miss Welder.
Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Grandy and family,
W. D. Roundtree and Miss Rosa Round-tree of Norfolk, Va., are at the Buena Vista.

Miss McElderry of Baltimore very pleasantly entertained friends at cards at the Monterey Wednesday evening. The prizes were won by Miss Lucy Hardy of Norfolk, Miss Helen Rous, Miss Mary Norwood and Mr. Reginald Price of Baltimore.

Although the meeting of the Maryland Bankers' Association is over, many of the diegrates are lingering on the mountain.

picasant atmosphere of the Blue Ridge. Mr. Rufus Parks and family of Norfolk are this season occupying the Pennington cottage.

Col. Walter Taylor and family of Norfolk Col. Walter Taylor and family of Norfolk are again at their cottage near here. They have been coming here regularly each season for the past twenty years. The families of Mrs. Charles King and Dr. W. H. Butler of Washington are this season occupying the Grier cottage. The event on the mountain next week will be the eleventh annual reunion of the members of the Reformed Church of Southern Pennsylvania, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia and West Virginia. The program as arranged will include the fol-Columbia, Virginia and West Virginia. The program as arranged will include the following addresses: "Reformed-Why?" Rev. J. M. Schick of Washington, D. C.; "The Reformed Church of the Twentieth Century," Rev. G. W. Richards of Lancaster, Pa.; "Japan's Claim on the Reformed Church," Rev. H. K. Miller, a missionary of the Reformed Church in Japan. The musical part of the program will include several vocal selections by Prof. Philip Baer of Greencastle.

The first of the series of moonlight picnics at Pen-Mar by the Hagerstown Assembly Club was a delightful social event. Among the guests of the club were Miss Gertrude and Miss Louise Higgins of Washington.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. The incorporators of the Farmers' Bank-ing and Trust Company of Montgomery county which company was chartered at the recent session of the legislature, held a meeting here yesterday for the purpose of considering the advisability of starting the institution. Mr. Samuel L. Phillips of Washington, one of the principal movers in the project, acted as chairman. The matter was thoroughly discussed, and it was unanimously decided to organize. The incorporators were authorized to solicit subscriptions to stock, but no one person shares, or $1,000 worth of stock. Another meeting of the incorporators will be held August 9, when results of the efforts to se cure subscriptions to stock will be reported.
